Press Note.

One of the important decisions taken at the All-India Food Conference held at Bombay, is to tighten up austerity measures with a view to overcoming the anticipated serious food shortage in the country as a result of the uncertainty of the international situation and the heavy loss of food production in the several Indian States brought about by natural calamities. In the words of our Prime Minister, not only the food in the country but also the lack of it has now to be shared by all on the principle of equal sacrifice.

The Ministry of Food and Agriculture, Government of India, have proposed certain austerity measures for being adopted by all States. The Mysore Food (Restriction of Service of Meals in Catering Establishments and others,) Order, of 1949, has been revised and re-issued as the Mysore Food (Austerity Measures in Service of Meals) Order, 1951, in Notification No. S. D. 8180—R. 24-50-273, dated 8th March 1951, incorporating all the relevent measures proposed by the Government of India. While making it clear that the austerity orders will be very strictly enforced, the attention of the public is drawn to the following provisions regarding Licensing of Catering Establishments, preparation of eatables made out of rationed articles and those regulating entertainment, feeding, etc.

"3. No catering establishment or bakery shall be opened or commenced except under and in accordance with the conditions of a licence i ssued by the Director of Food Supplies or any other Officer authorised by him in this behalf.

4. No catering establishment shall manufacture for sale or sell any article of food prepared using milk or rice, and no catering establishment shall prepare for sale or sell eatables known as "Idles" or "Dosais" or eatables of a similar kind prepared using rice;

Provided that nothing in this clause shall apply to:—

(i) the manufacture or sale of standard meal, or coffee or tea or cocoa, or sweet drink, or any other articles of food specifically exempted by the Director, in writing;

(ii) the manufacture for sale or sale of any article of food which involves the use of milk powder or canned milk.

5. (1) No person shall in connection with any marriage or funeral invite for taking cooked or prepared food, or serve or provide or supply cooked or prepared food using rationed articles, for more than fifty persons other than the persons shown on the Ration Cards of the persons performing the said marriage or funeral.

Explanation.—for the purpose of this sub-clause, in the case of areas where statutory rationing is not in force, the corresponding entries iu the "H.S. 1" Form, or Identity Cards shall be deemed to be the entries in the Ration Cards.

(2) No person shall, in connection with any marriage, serve or provide or supply more than two meals for each person invited for such marriage, and no person shall in connection with any funeral serve, provide or supply more than one meal for each person invited for such funeral.

Explanation.—On occasions of marriage or funeral, for not more than 50 persons who are invited as guests, rationed foodgrains may be issued, provided sufficient quantity of foodgrains are available for such issue:

Provided, that nothing in this clause shall apply to the distribution of pieces of wedding cakes or to the sending of sweets as presents in celebration of the marriage. The quantity of rationed foodgrains used for preparing such cakes or sweets shall not exceed the quantity admissible for 50 persons on the occasion of marriages.

(3) (i) Save as provided in paragraph (ii), nothing in this clause shall apply to subscription dinners in a club or association premises or in catering establishments arranged by any club or association for bona fide members of such club or association.

(ii) Where a subscription dinner is arranged by a club or an association under paragraph (i), not more than 24 non-members shall be invited as guests for such dinner.

(iii) No rationed foodgrains shall be issued for any subscription dinner arranged by a club or an association under this sub-clause.

(4) (i) Save as otherwise provided in this order, no owner or other person in charge of a Catering Establishment, and no person, shall cater for any gathering or party of more than 24 persons at a time, of food prepared out of rationed articles at any function or in any public or private entertainment. Every such owner or person shall give notice of his intention to entertain more than 20 persons and obtain the previous permission in writing of the Director or of any other Officer authorised by him in this behalf:

Provided that this sub clause shall not apply to the catering of persons with liquid refreshments, nuts, fruits (whether fresh or dried), potato chips, preparations of gram products' sweet potatoes, bananas, tapioca, groundnut-atta, sugar, gur, shakkar, salt, ghee, oil or vegetable oil products and pansupari but without admixture of wheat, rice, ragi, jawar, bajra, barley and maize or other controlled cereals.

(ii) No rationed foodgrains shall be issued in respect of any function or entertainment specified in paragraph (i).

The public are cautioned that a very serious view will be taken of any violation of the above regulations and that there will be no hesitation in launching prosecutions against all those concerned in such offences.

In the present context of the food situation it is earnestly hoped that the organising or undertaking of entertainments or feeding in public or private on any lavish scale will be avoided and that the number of persons to be entertained on obligatory occasions will be restricted to the absolute minimum. It is also necessary to add that requests for any relaxation in this behalf or exemption from austerity orders will under no circumstances be considered or complied with. Government would, against the background of serious food shortage facing the country this year, solicit the co-operation of the people of the State in conserving our limited food resources by the observance of the strictest economy in their use and the avoidance of all possible wastage.

Press Note.

CHANGE OF SUPPLY FREQUENCY OF THE PRESENT LIGHTING CIRCUITS FROM 60 CYCLES TO 50 CYCLES.

The consumers of Electricity in the limits of the Corporation of Bangalore are hereby informed that the present 60 cycles, 220 volts supply which is generally used for lighting is going to be changed over to 50 cycles, 220 volts by about the end of this month. This change will not affect the lamps or any other lighting fixtures.

In a few cases the same supply has been extended to domestic appliances such as refrigerators, fans, cooking ranges, etc., and these too will not be so affected, by the change of frequency, as to necessitate replacements.

However, if a consumer is using any special apparatus or appliances, he may consult the Chief Electrical Engineer, Bangalore, as to the suitability or otherwise on the 50 cycles supply, before using them to avoid damage to such apparatus.
